Questions:

1. Would it be possible for Mary Davis Brown to include in the email response and instructions that she sends back to prospective speakers a statement noting that the Board doesn't answer questions at the time of presentations but will respond to any written questions that are left with the Board.
2. In addition, would it be feasible to set up a link on the Board website to house the responses that are sent back to each presenter in order to make these responses public?
3. If not, why?
